Ryan Mead "Meado"

Our professional rodeo clown for this year's rodeo comes to us from our neighboring state of Nebraska. Ryan Mead "Meado" has been a professional rodeo clown for 15 years. After graduating from college in Nebraska, he started his career in banking...but with his love for rodeo and lack of talent, why not be a rodeo clown? Over the last 15 years, Ryan has entertained crowds all across the United States while continuing to call Nebraska home with his wife Nichole and their three children. Whether you see him at a professional bull ride or rodeo, his comedy and fast action is made for family entertainment. You never know, you came to watch the rodeo but if things go right...you just might be part of the show!!

Wade Grinager

Wade Grinager grew up with the rodeo way of life, roping and steer wrestling through high school, college and in the PRCA. Wade attended school at the University of Wyoming in Laramie for Mass Communications, as well as at Missouri Valley College in Marshall, Missouri. He went on to pursue a career in professional announcing and started Mirror W Productions. Wade has won MRA Announcer of the Year five times, IRCA Announcer of the Year three times, and URA Finals Announcer two times as well as the WTRA finals in Wyoming. He enjoys announcing because it allows him the ability to pump up and inform with his voice in a professional atmosphere. He currently resides in Maple Grove, MN.

Diamonds "N" Dust Equestrian Drill Team

The team is made up of 14 young ladies from 4 central Iowa counties. They perform lighted and unlighted routines delighting audiences locally and nationally. They perform year round at county fairs, rodeos and other venues including annual performances for the under privileged children at Camp Sunnyside.
